

Composting

Some things will rot down to make food for plants called compost. Plants, egg shells, fruit and vegetable peel can all make compost. Some people have a compost heap in their garden. If you have a brown bin at home, you can put garden waste like weeds, dead flowers and grass cuttings in it. They are all taken away to be composted in giant compost heaps.

What three things should not be in the compost heap?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

What should you do with these things?

Name three things that are good for making compost.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____